Aurora Councillors Urge Early Action On Conservation

Aurora—Monday evening the Aurora council again considered a proposal tendered by the planning board which requested that the Aurora council call a meeting of the council of Newmarket, Whitchurch, King, and East Gwillimbury to consider the formation of a Holland River Conservation Authority.

Various members of the council expressed their belief in the need for conservation measures. "There is nothing more important than conservation if you're looking ahead at all," said Councillor Pringle. Stating that council must decide if it is interested in conservation and willing to spend some time on it. Councillor Davies commented, "conservation is becoming very necessary. Water resources are fading fast." Councillor Jones recommended that a board of managers be set up separate from council to organize a conservation program.

Fairey Lake Cost $4-$5000 To Complete

Newmarket—Discussion on the possibilities of finishing the Fairey Lake project again took place at the council meeting on Monday night.

Reeve Arthur D. Evans said that according to the engineers, completion of the excavation with bulldozers, by an entire land operation, would cost between $4,000 and $5,000. That amount of money, he said, would enable the machinery to deepen the pond six feet from the top of the dam over an area extending 300 feet south of the dam.

What is taken from the lake bed could be piled along the east shore of the pond, he said, making possible a roadway from Water St. to the property immediately south of the pond, running parallel to the railway tracks. This property is owned by the Office Specialty Mfg. Co., at one time given it by the town. Mr. Evans said that the property could be opened up if there were a road into it, either for building lots or a park. "We have enough parks already," commented Mayor Vale.

It was also pointed out by other members of council that this property was the only vacant property left in town that could have a railway siding and was suitable for an industrial site.

Aurora—Contained in the police commission's report to the Aurora council Monday evening was a request for a by-law forcing all Aurora restaurants to be closed from 1 a.m. to 6 a.m. daily. Stating that the police commission felt that the gang wars and youth riots at Musselman's Lake and Lake Wilcox would be worse this year than in the past, and that these gangs would tend to gravitate to any town with an all-night restaurant, Mayor Dr. Crawford Rose, chairman of the police commission, requested consideration of the problem by council.

Drew, Duplessis In 'Agreement', Voters Should Know Terms - Martin, Health Minister Speaks In Town Hall

GLADMAN STOPS LICENSE AGENCY NAME WARD

Newmarket—Beginning today, motor licenses will be issued in Newmarket by Bert Ward, replacing H. M. Gladman, who is giving up this work in order to have more time to devote to his Canadian National Express Agency. Mr. Gladman was first appointed by the Drury government in 1921, now completing nearly 29 seasons at this work.

When he began more than 50 percent of the cars in use were model T. Fords, operators' licenses were some seven years in the future, and about 50 percent of the drivers who were supposed to carry chauffeur's licenses rolled merrily along without them. If a man carried fire and theft insurance, he called himself well insured and altogether the motoring picture was very different from present conditions. Yonge St. was being paved bit by bit, back streets in Newmarket looked like the paths in Dante's inferno when the spring breakup was on. The main street had just been paved after having been ripped up for sewers, then just rolled down and a bit of crushed stone applied. There were no radios in the cars, or hardly anywhere else as broadcasting was a curiosity. Verily, times have changed.

Aurora Woman Marks 87th Birthday

Aurora—Mrs. Thomas Stephens, Yonge St., celebrated her 87th birthday last Thursday. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. L. Stephens, gave her a birthday party where a number of her friends and neighbors offered her their congratulations and best wishes. Mrs. Stephens is in splendid health despite her age.

Release Builder From Camp Contract

Newmarket—Release from an obligation to build eight houses in the former army camp subdivision was given to John W. Bowser at council meeting Monday night in exchange for property that will be part of the grounds for the new school in that area and part of the proposed extension of Muriel Ave. to Gorham St.

Mr. Bowser had a contract to build 36 homes in the subdivision and has completed 28, the remaining eight being held up because there were not adequate sewage facilities put in by the town. The town will get the property free with the release of Mr. Bowser's obligation. The motion for the release of the obligation also states that any residence built on plan 314 where the houses were to have been built, in the future, must be as good as the other residences in the area.

TAG DAY POSTPONED

Newmarket—The Navy League tag day, scheduled for last Saturday, has been postponed until the fall.

Watt Not Drunk Witness Declares

Late Monday Claude Weston, brother of Dean Weston, owner of one of the cars involved in the early Sunday morning accident at Musselman's Lake, denied charges of drunkenness levelled at Chief Constable Ronald Watt of Whitechurch by part-time constable Elmer Wells, Lemonville. "Wells has exaggerated the whole thing. Watt was not drunk," he said.

On Monday Wells told Toronto newspapers that Chief Watt was "so drunk he didn't know what he was doing," and charged that his behaviour was "not fitting a police officer." He stated that he received a call around 2 a.m. Sunday morning over an accident at Musselman's Lake. "I had the accident pretty well cleaned up when Watt arrived," he said. "Watt took the accident out of my hands."

There were over 50 teenagers there and Watt started arguing with them. It turned into a riot. I got disgusted and left, and understand the accident wasn't cleaned up till 4:30 a.m., he said.

Denying Wells' story, Mr. Weston stated that "there was no riot." There were two fights that didn't amount to anything and involved only three people. Watt broke this up." According to Mr. Weston the crowd was trying to goad Chief Watt into a fight. "There were nearly 50 of them and he had quite a time. Once Watt dispersed the crowd, he

Petition Asks Lights For Armitage Heights

Newmarket—Town council was petitioned by residents of the Armitage Subdivision, last Monday night for lights on Andrew St. and on Eagle St. out at the outskirts of Armitage to the town limits. Spokesman was Jim Raymond. Mayor Vale said that the lights had been planned for but the petition would speed up their installation. At the last meeting of council, councillors Paynter and Morrison urged that lights be put out on Eagle St. continuing on to Yonge St. because of the new residents. Their motion for lights had been held over until another meeting. The motion on Monday night, however, only called for lights out to the town limits, which end at the outskirts of Armitage Heights.

Following the incident one man complained that he had been nearly choked to death by an assailant while Chief Watt was away having the brakes of one of the cars tested. "Wells was standing close by but didn't come to my assistance and refused to arrest my attacker," he said. Whitechurch Police Commission met Tuesday evening to review the incident and are expected to announce their decision shortly.

Horse Show Entries Third More Than '48

Aurora—It was announced late Wednesday by A. E. L. Maughan that to date there have been one-third more entries in the Aurora Horse Show than by this same time last year. The horse show, which is to be held in the Aurora Town park on Saturday, June 11, is sponsored by the Aurora Agricultural Society.

The show promises to be an outstanding success. A large midway will be in operation starting Friday evening while a dance will be held in the Aurora high school Saturday evening to Leo Paxton's orchestra. A much bigger exhibit for the ladies has been arranged with a large section set aside to accommodate their entries. A total of $2,200 in cash prizes and trophies is to be awarded during the course of the program. The horse show proper will be conducted in three separate rings. An outstanding assembly of hunters, jumpers, draught and harness horses will be seen in action by the spectators.

Over 100 contestants have been provided for exhibits in domestic science, ladies' work, home economics and industrial arts. A total of 71 classes will be judged in the three rings. Ring number one will hold 16 riding and jumping classes. In ring number two 21 classes of roadsters, hackney and carriage horses will be judged, while in ring number three the draught horses will compete in 34 classes. The program is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m., Saturday.

Council Endorses Health Unit Plan

Newmarket—Entry into a district health unit of possibly 14 municipalities was unanimously sanctioned by the town council at a meeting on Monday night. Reeve Arthur D. Evans who presented the motion for joining the health unit should it be started, said that 11 or 12 of the 14 municipalities in the north end of the county have agreed to go in on the scheme. The health of children in the district would be looked after before they reach school age under this system, he said. "The cost for Newmarket would be a little more than half the cost of Newmarket's present health services," Mr. Evans said.

"It would be a major step forward," declared Deputy Reeve J. L. Spillette. "We will get more for what we are paying. Some of the municipalities are in favour of the unit even though they will be paying more than they have been for health services."

The cost for Newmarket has been quoted around $2,180 a year, for Aurora, $1,484. One of the municipalities, Whitechurch township, has not favored entry into the health unit. Half of the total operating cost of the health unit is to be paid by the provincial government.

Discrimination, Loss Claimed From Parking Restrictions

Newmarket—A petition against the "no parking" restrictions on the west side of Main St. between Millard and Park Aves. was presented to council on Monday night by Jos. O. Dales on behalf of business men in the old Royal hotel block. Chief complaint was that the area was the only business section where parking was restricted, and that it was hampering business. Some businessmen felt that "discriminatory" measures had been adopted in this parking policy, said Mr. Dales.

Said councillor Morrison, chairman of the police committee, "Nobody is going to say anything if someone drops in to pick up a purchase but we don't want them parking for 10, 15 or 20 minutes." The problem was referred to the police for consideration.

Newmarket—Hon. Paul Martin, speaking here Tuesday night, termed the secret "agreement" between George Drew and Premier Duplessis of Quebec, a "serious situation" and declared that the people of Canada have a right to know the terms of such an agreement. The minister of health and welfare spoke at a mass Liberal meeting in Newmarket's town hall, sponsored by the York North Liberal Association. Liberal candidate Jack Smith also spoke, as well as riding officials.

"Mr. Drew saw Donald Fleming's statement in the press that there was a Drew-Duplessis alliance and then said that it was not an alliance but an agreement," said Mr. Martin. "If it is an alliance, that means they pull together but if it is an agreement, you and I want to know its terms."

Opposed War Effort "One of the first things we had to face at the beginning of the war was Duplessis' opposition to the war effort as well as that of Montreal's Mayor Houdé who was later interned. If Drew's agreement is with Duplessis, it is also with Houdé." The minister declared that Duplessis does not stand for the people of Quebec; that he was defeated in Quebec during the war by a vote of confidence in the Liberal government.

"All during the war, there was no greater government opponent than Drew," he said. "And we all remember that in opposing the family allowance, as premier of Ontario, he said that Ontario would be paying for Quebec's families. Duplessis once said that the only government that could pass legislation on family allowances would be a provincial government. So did Drew and so did Bracken. The government of Canada means the ten provinces and the federal government getting along together. What guarantee have we that there will be these satisfactory relations? He should be elected as prime minister."

"I know one of the terms of this agreement between Drew and Duplessis. It is to prevent a great man, one who is frank to the people, one who says in Quebec what he says in Vancouver, from getting into power."

No Irresponsible Promises "We have said that we are not going behind the people and make irresponsible promises. We believe that the people will support the Liberal party because that party will be able to carry out social welfare and health plans. When Drew says he is going to improve the family allowance, the people don't believe it. They know the test is not made by promises made in the heat of an election campaign but by the kind of sustained record that the Liberal party has made. "The national health program is a step that will be felt for many years to come, based on the principle that a nation's health is a nation's wealth. This party and government won a statement from the American Public Health Association that the health program is the greatest event of all North American health movements in 25 years. I am one of those who believes that we must keep men at work. We can't have high social costs unless men are engaged in progressive effort and with this we must take bold steps in the future in the interest of social welfare."

Mr. Martin went on to outline some of the advancements that will be made under the program that will survey and combat cancer, T. B., and conditions that cause the crippling of children. T.B., he said, has been cut 50 percent in 25 years and the program is planned for the elimination of T.B. in the next two decades. Starting in May, 1948, the government has given $400 million of money to the provinces for health services, he said.

Work of King Goes On "The work of MacKenzie King will go on through Prime Minister St. Laurent," said Mr. Martin. "Drew and St. Laurent are as different as day and night. It is not a question of who will win but how many seats the Liberals will have in the government of Canada. Twenty seats out of 28 in Newfoundland is very significant." The significant part is that Drew visited Newfoundland twice and St. Laurent did not go at all.

Of the York North Liberal candidate, he said: "Jack Smith is a man of rare judgment in the matters that concern this country as well as his own riding. He is a fine public servant and the best tribute you can

York Hog Growers Have Field Day

Gormley — On Wednesday, June 1, Zone No. 3 of the Hog Producers held a field day and picnic at Leitchcroft Farms, Gormley. The committee combined a day of instruction and pleasure. Chas. Newton of Barrie, director of Zone No. 3, acted as master of ceremonies. W. C. Tummon, secretary of Ontario Hog Producers, was guest speaker.

W. Watson of the livestock branch acted as official judge. Mr. Tummon said there would be an important announcement from the main office shortly to hog producers. He asked the farmers not to become panicky and liquidate their breeding stock.

The judging contest by Mr. Watson included breeding stock, bacon type, and weight guessing. Mr. Watson showed the good and bad points in the breeding stock. The farmers had a chance to ask questions. In the weight guessing contest, most farmers were away out on the weight. No one was within 30 pounds on the total weight of four hogs. This would prove the importance of having weighing scales for weighing hogs before being shipped. The ladies enjoyed the judging contest—one took a prize. The program of sports for young and old was enjoyed.

The Leitchcroft Farm supplied tables, chairs, and hot drinks at noon. The management, staff, their wives and families contributed to make the day a real success.

25th Sports Day Hailed 'Best Ever' Mt. Albert Crowd Estimated 6,000

Mount Albert — The 25th annual Sports Day was held here last Saturday with an estimated crowd of 6,000. Kenneth Ross, chairman of the park board, said that it was probably a record crowd on Saturday afternoon for Sports Days at the Mount Albert community park.

One of the features of the day was a beauty contest when Miss Marian Wardell, Queensville, was chosen Miss East Gwillimbury of 1949 and was driven around the fair grounds on a special float along with Miss Toronto who was also transported on a monster combine machine.

Runners up in the beauty contest were Marie Mitchell, Mount Albert, and Doreen Young, also of Mount Albert. Miss Toronto, who had become Mrs. Ted Courtney a week ago Wednesday, stopped off at the Sports Day while on her wedding trip.

One of the humorous side-lights of the afternoon was a string eating contest where some of the blindfolded young men raced for the prize which was supposedly a kiss from Miss Toronto. The dumfounded winner, on being "unblindfolded" discovered that he had kissed a somewhat older male member of the community instead of the beauty queen.

Such pranks were going on all afternoon on the continuous program staged for the crowd. Other features were tap dancing routines, singing and square dancing cowboys and down the road a piece was the midway which had its usual crowd of youngsters and oldsters too. Pony rides were for the kids and ball games were in progress all afternoon on the sports field.

Said one member of the park board, "This day puts Mount Albert on the map. People come from all over the county and beyond that." There was positive evidence of that as cars came into town and hundreds were parked in the fields and along the roads. Booths quickly ran low on soft drinks and hot dogs and had to be replenished. At night the same large crowds attended the big dance. It is believed that the 25th annual Mount Albert Sports Day was one of the most successful in history.

'Food Bank' Plan Being Considered

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture is host to some 120 delegates from 25 countries during the two-week conference at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, from May 31 to June 11. Canadian Federation of Agriculture president, H. H. Hannam, Ottawa, is third vice-president of the I.F.A.P.

A world food plan for moving food surpluses from producer nations to consumer nations, proposed by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, is being studied by the conference as well as international commodity agreements and other international problems of agriculture.

The Canadian Federation proposed establishment of an international food board and an international fund to operate the plan.

Mr. Hannam, leader of the Canadian delegation, told the first plenary session of the conference that such food surpluses would "always be distributed at relatively low prices." He said that any loss incurred in each distribution would be shared by the nation disposing of the surplus and by other nations of the world through the proposed international emergency fund.

Immediate ratification of the proposed international wheat agreement was asked by a special general session on June 2.

Delegates arrived in Halifax last month and have been guests of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture on a tour of the eastern provinces before their arrival in Guelph on May 30. After the conference the tour will continue across Canada to Vancouver. Delegates will be entertained by member-bodies of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture at various places on the tour, including a stampede at Nanton, Alta., and in the Fraser Valley and in Vancouver.

On a return trip to the east coast through the United States the group will be guests of U.S. Farm Bureau Federation. On a three-day bus tour of Ontario, delegates were guests of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

Geoff and Stella have been excited ever since they learned from the careless words of their father that the circus was coming to town. Their grandmother had given them as a present some weeks ago a cardboard file containing pictures of a circus. They studied this quite carefully. With their grandmother's help, they learned to identify lions and tigers, elephants and clowns. So when they learned the circus was coming to town, the event was full of real significance for them.

Monday morning was misery. Why couldn't they go to the circus now? They asked their mother at five-minute intervals. Was she sure the circus had arrived? Was it necessary to eat lunch? Why?

Somehow, their mother persuaded them to rest a bit before lunch but it was a gesture only. They went to their rooms from which they shouted a question-and-answer dialogue: Would there be clowns? And bears? And horses? Mummy can I get up now? Why? Lunch was best compared to a pitched battle between appetites and mounting excitement. When they reached the arena they were fairly hopping with anticipation.

We joined the crowd of children and parents surging into the arena at about 2.30 p.m. and even then, had to go to the far end of the arena before finding seats. We settled the children and ourselves—and it began all over again. "Is this the circus, Mummy?" "Where are the lions?" "Where are the elephants?" "What's that man doing, Daddy?"

The circus management happily provided a clown to ease the strain of the 20 minutes before the circus opened and the kids thoroughly enjoyed him although at first, a certain amount of confusion was evident. They did not think it right to laugh at the difficulties the poor man was having with first, his hat, and then his long-tailed coat. But as the merriment increased, smiles broke out, and then laughter.

We didn't see much of the show, enjoying instead the bug-eyed expressions of our children as act succeeded act in a colorful and exciting spectacle. The children's reaction varied. Some of the acts seemed to be without interest for them. The animals caught their attention, particularly the ponies and the sumo-wrestling dogs. The wild animal act provoked the question, "Can they bite, Daddy?"—appropriate to the snarling and pawing of the tigers which kept Captain Roman Proskem in constant action.

The bicycle act, which we liked best, brought tears to Geoff's eyes. His favorite toy is his tricycle. The spectacle of a man taking his bicycle apart was too much for Geoff's reverence of his own steed. He declared in tears that he wanted to go home and right away. We persuaded him to stay with reference to the elephants soon to appear.

The "Great Downie," whose utter disregard for the laws of gravity attracted our attention, left Stella unmoved. From her expression, she seemed to consider this display of skill a waste of time. As the Great Downie swung by his neck in "this death defying feat" and the arena was hushed in awe, Stella piped up with: "What's that man doing up there, Daddy?"

By the time the elephants went into their ponderous dance, the children were so saturated with the noises and the sights in the arena that the huge beasts were anti-climatic. To keep the kids peaceful, we bought them balloons. The next morning, the circus was forgotten and the events of the day before were reduced to their pleasure in the balloons as they bumped against the ceiling of their bedrooms.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

The Stock Show at Aurora on Tuesday was a great success, according to the files of 25 years ago. There were 2,000 people on the grounds. One hundred cadets in uniform came up from St. Andrew's College, Toronto, and headed by their band marched up Yonge St. to the site of their new college where luncheon was served and in the afternoon they were guests of the fair. Art Evans, Newmarket, won the red ribbons on his pony and Mrs. Leishman won first prize in lady driving at the show.

Mr. Ernest Bogart has completed his final year in law and also obtained the degree of LL.B. at the University of Toronto. He has gone to the Muskoka Lakes for the summer as pursuer on the S.S. Sagamore.

On June 11, Edna Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Helmer, and Charles Rupert Near, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Near, Georgetown, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Church St., Rev. A. J. Mann officiated.

The new school building on Lyne Ave. is nearing completion and work has started on levelling the ground.

Ewart Fackler, son of H. H. Fackler, is home from the University of Toronto where he passed his exams as a geologist. He will leave shortly to spend the summer in New Ontario with a government surveying party.

Two new residences are being built on Eagle St. One is for W. Ayers and the other for David Harford. They are well on their way and will be ready for occupancy in a few months.

W. J. Brocklebank, whose parents reside on Park Ave., has just completed the academic year as professor of law at Tusculossa University of Alabama and left New York on Saturday to visit friends in Paris, France. He expects to be away three or four weeks and on his return will take a summer course at Columbia University. He has accepted a position at the University of Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, as teacher of law.

Mr. Gordon Burnett and family have moved to Toronto and his home on Court St. has been rented to Mr. C. Near.

The heavy rains on Monday caused considerable damage south of Schomberg, according to the files of 50 years ago. A number of culverts in the 4th of King were washed out, farm fences carried away by the flood, the stone foundation of a new barn being built for Robert White, Schomberg, was washed out and crops have been considerably damaged.

Messrs. E. Jackson and P. W. Pearson left here on Tuesday as delegates to the Owen Sound Conference.

Miss O'Leary and Miss Nora O'Leary leave this week for the Muskoka Lakes where they have accepted positions as cashier and assistant in the Navigation Office.

It was 26 in the shade last Wednesday.

Cane's factory is getting in another boiler this week. It will increase the capacity to 500 h.p. The new brick building is getting along well. The masons are up to the second storey and the carpenter work is well advanced. It is expected and the building will be ready to move into next month.

Mrs. Allan Gody entertained her Sunday-school class last Friday evening.

Mr. Obed Widdfield, Pine Orchard, brought a sample of his strawberry rhubarb into the office which had a bright, clear stock, 2' 3" in length.

Norman Rogers is home from Medical College for vacation.

The Editorials:

What Are the Terms?

A criticism of the Conservative campaign, hotly denied by the Conservative press, has been that Mr. Drew in his efforts to defeat the government, has allied himself with the nationalist-isolationist element in Quebec which is led by Mr. Duplessis, best known for his opposition to total war effort by Canada, and Mr. Houde, mayor of Montreal, wartime internee.

How sound the criticism was shown on Tuesday by the admission of Mr. Drew himself that there was an "agreement" between himself and Mr. Duplessis. What could be more damning to the Conservative cause than this "agreement"? There is nothing in common between the Conservatives led by Mr. Drew west of Quebec and the anti-liberal elements led by Mr. Duplessis in Quebec except an ambition to defeat the Liberals.

Mr. Drew requires Mr. Duplessis' help in pursuing this purpose but at what cost? The terms of the "agreement" have not been, of course, announced yet it must be obvious that in allying himself with Mr. Duplessis, Mr. Drew has committed the Conservative party to friendship with representatives of a policy that Conservatives have squarely opposed. What integrity can be found in such an arrangement.

Speaking in Newmarket Tuesday night, the Hon. Paul Martin, minister of national health and welfare, demanded: "The people of Canada have a right to know the terms of this 'agreement'." A most justifiable demand.

There is no reason why political parties should not enter into arrangements of mutual convenience to achieve certain purposes.

But when a political party associates with elements whose beliefs are squarely in opposition to it in an effort to defeat the government, the public has a right to know to what extent that party has forfeited its claims to national representation. Such agreements have a very real influence on the conduct of national affairs and as such, must be considered as public property.

Letters to the Editor

In last week's issue of The Era and Express, Reeve Ed Logan of Whitechurch township replied by letter to editorial criticism of his opposition to the health unit proposal, and to the criticism of another correspondent on his roads policy.

We should like to express our appreciation to Mr. Logan for taking the time to reply to these criticisms. As chief township official, he is a busy man. If he were to follow current custom, he could have ignored the criticism and contented himself by damning us with words only.

Had he followed this course, there would have been no profit to anyone. By taking time to write his letters, Mr. Logan restates his stand with additional arguments for it, and by doing so helps educate his readers in these matters.

We do not feel that Mr. Logan's reply is convincing, as is evident elsewhere on this page. But by indicating his willingness to discuss public business in a public medium, instead of taking the stand so often observed among public officials that public issues are none of the public's business, he has earned the respect of Whitechurch citizens.

Health Unit Endorsed

The Newmarket council on Monday night fully endorsed the health unit proposal, a scheme whereby neighboring municipalities pool their costs to maintain a single health unit, adequately staffed and partially financed by the provincial government, which can provide a complete health service to those participating. It is a particularly happy proposal for Newmarket since participation in a health unit reduces Newmarket's health costs by half, and enlarges our already better-than-average health service. Council's approval of the proposal represents a victory on the part of Reeve Arthur Evans, and to a lesser degree, Deputy Reeve Spillette. Reeve Evans has been a strong advocate of the scheme for some months, and with the assistance of Deputy Reeve Spillette, is contributing much towards the adoption of it in the north end of the county.

Opposition to the scheme was voiced from Whitechurch at its last council meeting. Cost was a factor then, and in a letter to the editor, printed last week, Reeve Ed Logan enlarged on his objection, arguing that the unit would be removed from the direction of those who financed it, that there would be no local representation in the direction of the unit.

This is wrong. The participating municipalities would have adequate representation, the province appointing only one director to the municipalities' several. There would be just as much local representation as now exists in local health boards although spread over a wider area. Local health boards administer provincial legislation as well as local by-laws and to the extent that a health unit board must observe the former, it does, as Reeve Logan says, take direction from the province. There is not, however, domination by the province of health units as Reeve Logan suggests any more than there is domination by the province of local boards of health.

The formation of a health unit in the north part of the county will provide participating municipalities with health services they cannot at present afford when financed separately. It does so at a reduced cost to some municipalities, at heavier cost to others. The increase in cost to the latter, however, when figured per capita, makes the benefits in school nursing, sanitary inspection, and all the advantages of public health services, an exceedingly cheap public service.

The conclusion which must be drawn as far as those municipalities whose health service costs will increase by participation in a health unit is that their present services are not adequate, but this can be remedied by the formation of a health unit.

Water Shortage

Newmarket's vulnerability to an inadequate water supply is being demonstrated at present with appeals from the water committee to the householders to save water. Newmarket does not have a water shortage in the strict sense of the word. There is water supply for all requirements, but the provision of it represents a growing strain upon wells now used. It is quite conceivable that in a few short years, the capacity of those wells will be inadequate to the demand.

The water committee has been aware of this situation and last summer spent a large sum of money in search of new water sources, going some distance out of town in their search. No new wells were found. Yet at one time, this area was well watered.

The answer to a water shortage cannot be provided locally. More is involved than locating a new well. Water sources must be created and that can only be done by a heavy program of conservation. Councillor Tom Birrell is on the right track when he advocates a program of tree planting along the banks of the Holland River, and the damming of the river at points where the canal locks still stand to provide a series of reservoirs and hold back run-off water.

Newmarket cannot, by itself, undertake such a program. It goes far beyond its borders and the cost is too high for one municipality to pay. By working with other municipalities within the watershed through a Holland River Conservation Authority, and with financial assistance from the provincial government, a water conservation program could be undertaken which would benefit not only Newmarket but Aurora and all other municipalities involved.

Water shortages cannot be overcome in a few years, but by acting now on a conservation program, either along the lines suggested by Mr. Birrell or as advised by conservation engineers, a water famine can be averted in the future. A water shortage is the greatest handicap to development of the municipalities in the Holland watershed. What is done now will bear fruit in years to come, but a start must be made at once if anything is to be accomplished.

We commented last week on the shocking condition of the arena washrooms, as we found them on Monday of that week. We are informed that the washrooms were thoroughly cleaned the following day and that steps have been taken to ensure a continuing cleanliness.

Tuesday night, the Hon. Paul Martin, federal minister of health and welfare, spoke in the Newmarket town hall. Mr. Martin's department administers the Family Allowance Act and has begun a five-year national health program which in the current year, involves an expenditure of over $31 millions. An able speaker, and one whose entire political life has been devoted to providing in increasing measure a federal health program, Newmarket was indeed honored by his presence.

The success of Mount Albert's 25th annual Sports Day at the park reflects much credit on the community for its continuous support of the project, and more specifically, on those individuals who this year worked so well to accomplish the event.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

Last week a daily print displayed a two-column front page story that reported the U.K. had recognized the Senussi as rulers of Cyrenaica. The Grand Senussi, Emir Idress el Senussi, apparently was to go to London to discuss matters of state and Britain had proclaimed the independence of Cyrenaica, recognizing the Grand Salami . . . I mean Senussi, as head of the government.

We read the heading and the first paragraph without the foggiest notion of what was going on and where. Admittedly, a few paragraphs below there was mention that this dim place was in the Eastern part of Libya but we would never have known. What was particularly amusing was the treatment of the names, subject and general presentation of the story as if it were all an every-day familiarity to the reading public.

Imagine the average reader seeing the Grand Senussi in print and saying "Oh yes, him again, eh," or seeing the name Cyrenaica and musing to himself, "Why here is some news about Cyrenaica!" The impression we had was that either the editors were showing off or just didn't give a darn about us ignorant readers or again, believed their readers to be pretty good geographers and genealogists. Who are the Senussi and how many readers know them anyway?

The public print said that the place is inhabited by 250,000 of these Senussi who, a century ago, "were united into a powerful Moslem group, zealous in its defense of Islam" and that's all it said. You see the trouble with newspapers? You just get a taste of knowledge and you're cut off. So what does a great seeker of knowledge and the great truther like me have to do? Go and scrounge through the Encyclopedia Britannica. Oh bother!

Instead, I consulted our chief geographer who operates a stitching machine in the foreign news department. He said that he had never actually visited the Senussi but that it reminded him of the time when he was on the vast Goodab flats in the Siberian wastes.

"For six weeks we had nothing in our tummies but swamp water and the bitter flesh of the Mongolian Crumb Snatcher. That is a species of the Kee bird variety which doesn't fly but just sits."

"And after all your travels you have never encountered one single Senussi, O worthless geographer?" I said.

"No," said he, "but I have heard about them in my travels among the wandering tribes in the Sahara. A very fast moving crowd, I understand them to be. Seems to me that there was an old Senussi maxim, quite popular in the desert, of which I too was quite fond. Let me see now, it went something like, oh yes, quote, when you argue with a fool, be sure he isn't similarly engaged, unquote. An old Senussi maxim."

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

We have read about the bill of rights, civil rights, the rights of man. Just what are the rights of man? What should he expect or demand?

Some writers in our papers are calling on the low income tax group to demand their rights in the color and shape of the package of food. Others are demanding a lower price on food. There is a squeeze play on farm produce now brought on by people who have good salaries and good positions. Butter is down in price, the farmers are weeding more calves and too many calves on the market. Veal prices are down $3 per 100 lbs.

Which farm produce is the next for a squeeze is anyone's guess. We are told that we must not talk or think of a recession or a depression. For the depression of the hungry 30's there were many reasons given. We do know what happened on the farm. When farm prices went down the farmers started to kill their own stock. There were half pigs and quantities of beef and the beef ring system was started in many places. It took work away from the truckers of stock to market, from the packing plants, truckers who brought meat back to the retail trade and work in the retail market. The farm machinery on the farms was held together by haywire meaning less work for men making repairs.

When the purchasing power is taken away from any group it is bad for everyone. The farmer was hard hit but very few if any farmers had to go on relief. There are two ways the farmer can meet a lower food price, work harder and produce more or take more out of the soil than he puts in. Has the consumer of food the right to demand that the farmer work longer hours than any other group or produce a low food price at the expense of our soil?

It has been said that the farmer needs better management and more efficiency in production to lower the cost of food. The commission on price spreads found that there was very little competition in prices, that the manufacturer had control of the price to the consumer. If the farmer had price control of farm produce to the consumer, then better management and efficiency would pay the farmer. We sell on a supply and demand market. When the supply exceeds the demand the price is forced down, so why should we farmers work to force our own prices down? The manufacturer does not over-load the market. Better management and efficiency would pay industry but not the farmer.

The farmer does improve his breeding stock, grain, hay, but who gets the real benefit? Not the farmer but the consumer in a low food policy. If it is right that part of our economy should be under control while part is under a competition system free enterprise is a wonderful thing. The farmer is free to work harder, produce more to sell for less and by the actions of many of our farm friends they like the half and half system.

We can't blame our city friends for wanting lower food prices, but we can prove that one hour's wage today will buy more food than any year since 1901—bread, beef, eggs, butter and milk. Our farm economists are bringing many things to light. After a while the farmer will realize that the marketing of farm produce is as important as producing.

At the time of writing, oats and barley are up $1 per ton, while hogs are down nearly $3 per hundred. The hog producer has to be smart to meet these conditions. No wonder there are too many farmers that are in and out of producing hogs. Cheerio.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Foot-Notes

BY WILLIAM FOOTE
AURORA EDITOR

Last Monday a part-time constable at Musselman's Lake, Elmer Wells of Lemonville, made damaging accusations in Toronto press concerning the conduct of Chief Constable Ronald Watt of Whitechurch. Mr. Wells charged that Watt was drunk and disorderly when he came to Musselman's Lake to investigate an accident at 2 a.m. Sunday morning.

According to Mr. Wells, he had the accident well in hand when his superior officer arrived. He accused Chief Watt of drunkenly assuming control of the accident and of creating a riot among 50-odd teenagers who were gathered around watching.

Mr. Wells has behaved in an unbecomingly manner. The usual procedure in a police department is not that followed by Mr.

Wells. If the conduct of Watt was questionable, Wells should have consulted his immediate superior, in this case the Whitechurch Police Commission. If Mr. Wells had acted in this manner the whole matter would have been investigated with a minimum of adverse publicity for the township and its police force.

Mr. Wells, however, chose instead the role of prosecuting attorney. Going over his departmental heads he has not only succeeded in crucifying a fellow officer, but he has done irreparable damage to the reputation of his township and of other police departments and police officers generally. Mr. Wells should be strongly reprimanded for his arrogant assumption of authority.

Lay Foundation Stone For Jersey Church

Miami Beach—The foundation stone of St. Paul's church, Jersey, was laid Tuesday evening. In spite of a biting north wind, a long line of cars was drawn up on the road down to the beach, and a good crowd was present for the ceremony. This included a delegation from Christ church, Roche's Point, headed by the two wardens, J. Scotland and E. Bunn.

The service was conducted by Rev. H. L. Puxley, rector of Roche's Point. A memorial bearing the signatures of the members of the church committee and the names of the rector and Mrs. LaRue, donor of the site, was placed in a small box by T. Lowndes, secretary of the committee, together with a sum of money. This box was then inserted in the foundation stone by Bob Mathews, chairman of the committee, and the stone was laid in place by Roger LaRue, assisted by Manny Miller, who is in charge of the construction of the basement. It was the prayer of all present that the new church might be a source of much blessing to this rapidly growing community.

Mr. Miller hopes to complete the basement next week, and Mr. Harrison of Mount Albert expects to move the church down from Boyer's Crossing about June 20. As this same church first stood on the town line near the main highway, it is now returning very near its original home. If all goes according to plan, it is hoped to hold the first service in the church at its new site on Sunday, July 10.

RAVENSHOE

The W.A. supper will be served June 15 in the United church basement from 6 to 8 p.m. Hostesses are Mrs. W. King, Mrs. S. Shanks and Mrs. M. Rutledge. Everybody welcome.

Miss Mary Leitch returned to Toronto General hospital last Wednesday. A number of the ladies attended the district annual of the Women's Institute held at Queensville on Monday.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor: It is apparent from your editorial page of last week that you are living in a supremely rosy haze. You paint a very pretty picture on behalf of the Liberal government. I glean from your criticism of the C.C.F. advertisement that you endorse all other advertisements printed in The Era and Express. If not, why let your ethics run away with you on this particular issue?

You invite us to look at the record. You cite Armitage Heights sub-division as the Liberal contribution through private enterprise toward housing. In the issue of The Era and Express which covered the opening ceremonies at Armitage Heights the credit was awarded to the initiative of our local council, this week to private enterprise, which you attribute by some stretch of imagination to Liberal government. To whom go the laurels? The truth of the matter is as I see it that Central Mortgage and Housing saw a desperate situation and took advantage by presenting a brief to town council.

While Armitage Heights has alleviated the local housing situation, it is not my idea of low rental housing when a man pays from 20 to 25 percent of his living wages for a four-room house, attractive though it may be, but nevertheless with neither basement nor furnace.

In the same editorial you quote a magnificent but meaningless figure contributed to Ontario's Old Age and Blind Pensioners. I am not sure, if at the age of 70 were I granted $35 dollars per month with a certain stigma attached that I would feel socially secure. But then some people are never satisfied. I suppose I should be grateful and vote Liberal even if I don't receive enough to pay my room rent under the prevailing Liberal housing scheme.

You are an election behind on Family Allowance. That was '45 election bait and has worn thin in Ontario if not in Newfoundland.

You have been writing for some weeks about the Liberal health plan. What health plan? I am still obliged to pay substantial fees to a private enterprise health plan. Again you quote magnificent figures spent in research and control but treatment is still at a high premium for victims of tuberculosis and cancer.

In Editor's Notebook you speak with nostalgia of the good old days when east was east and elections were conducted in a most colorful manner. I remember when the Botsford-Main intersection was jammed with Herb Lennox supporters awaiting results on election night. Although I was at a tender age, I was a Lennox fan because I was swept away in the spirit of the moment. So be of many of the young Liberals and Conservatives. They don't know why they are so except that 'the Jones have voted Liberal from way back'. They see no reason to change since our present educational curriculum offers no course to stimulate political interests. I hope that when my sons take their places in the political tug-of-war, that they will know why they are of their chosen political faith and will not turn green with fright when the local editor paints a red cloak on state control.

C.C.F.'ers have not inherited their faith. The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation is a young movement. It is a movement of clear-thinking Canadians who have come to see the light, who know the value of socialism and who know that a change is imminent.

You are scarcely in a position to judge C.C.F. government or to be so cross as to compare it with Liberal government. The fact that the C.C.F. was the only House returned in 16 years of Saskatchewan government speaks for itself.

Mary Holbrook, Newmarket.

Editor's note: We suggest Mrs. Holbrook reread the editorial to get her facts straight.

PARDON our pointing... with pride.

But it's an event when the number of bank workers passes the 40,000 mark—as it did last year.

That's 65% more than before the war.

It's an event, first, because it shows the increased use of Canadian bank services...

More deposit accounts: now over seven million.

More funds: customers' deposits now reach nearly seven billion dollars. More services: to farmers; to personal and small-business borrowers; to war pensioners; to people receiving Family Allowances.

It's an event, too, because of the kind of men and women who have joined our ranks. Eager to get ahead, they are finding in banking an interesting job, a challenging career. They can tell you how important privacy in banking is to the Canadian way of doing things.

Heath—In loving memory of B.H.1931 Pte. Bill Heath, killed in action June 7, 1941.
The rolling stream of life goes on.
But still the vacant chair
Reminds the love, the voice, the smile.
Of the one who once sat there.
Ever remembered by mom, dad, sisters and brother.

Mugford—In loving memory of a dear brother, Trooper Wm. J. Mugford, killed in action June 11, 1941.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
Sadly missed by sister and family.

Palmateer—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Frank Palmateer, who passed away June 13, 1947.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember him who once was here
And who, though absent, is just as dear.
Ever remembered by his wife and sons John and Robert.

Warner—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Maria Warner, who passed away June 7, 1937.
And while she lies in peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
Ever remembered by son Frank, Bessie and family.

QUESTIONS

I wonder if any of the readers of this column have, like the writer of it, lost their orioles? Year after year, these lovely black bonneted little feathered friends have come back to us, have fed at our Spruce Tree Inn in happy harmony with our other boarders and serenaded us with their happy notes.
This year, despite food and water being there as of old, no sign of our brilliant comrades have we seen. Twice the other half of the family and I thought we heard their notes in the distance, but there have been no repeats and we are lonely. The song sparrows carol lustily and the wrens warble and scold—all as of old—but where are the orioles?
Another question—When is a joint meeting not a joint meeting? I suppose we all, in the course of attending many meetings, have been where a supposedly joint meeting was in progress, and where, despite frantic efforts on the part of some enterprising souls, the two groups remained stubbornly intact as a group. Maybe one or two intrepid souls might venture to cross the unseen line between but like all adventurers their fate was uncertain.
However, when we of the Bogartown Institute journeyed to Sharon last Wednesday to the home of Mrs. Boyd, we had a cheerful feeling that all would be well—and it was, despite the fact that some of my Sharon and Bogartown friends found so many feathers on my back that they thought I must be growing wings.
It was interesting listening to the problems, projects and plans of another Institute—I find it truer all the time that one learns by listening. And the two Institutes listened all mixed up—I don't mean that our brains were added—just that here was a Bogartownian—there a Sharonite.
The material for the three papers given by Mrs. A. Penrose, Mrs. H. Penrose and Mrs. Frank Williams—one prepared by Miss L. Starr, was gathered at the source—that is from the coal mining districts, the deep sea fishers' homes and the oil fields of the west.
One thing that struck me was how little the average woman knows about mineral rights and I presume this applied until recently to many men, too, for the contrast in the fortunes of those families whose property purchases included mineral rights was brought before us. The man who, though he owned the land—owned it for many years—yet had no mineral rights, really lost if oil was found on his property, for his farm was destroyed and all he received was rent for the land where the oil was. In contrast, the man having mineral rights got splendid royalties on his holdings and became rich.
Were you ever in a spelling match? If you were anything like me, you couldn't spell your own name even if you remembered it—which I did not on one never to be forgotten occasion.
At any rate when Mrs. McClure lined up six heroic Sharon souls and proceeded to ask them questions—my heart went out to them and I suffered with them only to relax when a triumphant voice announced the proper answer. All the same, these quizzes on Institute, local and world affairs are splendid memory tests.
Your columnist sang "The Swallows" and "The Artist"—a cat song. Mrs. Albert Ridley acted as accompanist. Mrs. Earl Toole read a delightful little poem about how babies were brought up in the long ago and this writer read how a wedding ceremony and an auction sale were beautifully mixed up by a rattle-brained editor.
The ladies of Sharon make wonderful cakes and sandwiches as was proved in the delightful half-hour which followed the meeting when social intercourse was accompanied by the disappearance of the good things before us—we should have more of these joint meetings.

June 6 At Queensville
I love to go to bed with the thought of some delightful event—even if it keeps me awake—in the offing. I lay watching the grey of early dawn deepen into sunrise and it suggested the deepening and expanding of the work of the Women's Institutes. And as we, after a hectic early morning, got into the car and drove through a land of utter peace—a land where we can express our views, say our prayers and work out our individual problems, a little prayer of thanks-giving welled up in my heart, for it seems to me the times are all too few when we see Canada as others see her—a land of unstinted opportunity.
Since we are now blessed with a W.I. column in The Era and Express, I will only mention in this column next week, the things which highlighted the day for me. So until next week, au revoir!

NEWMARKET W.C.T.U.
Alcoholism Said Challenge
Newmarket — The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. E. Bate on June 7. Mrs. J. Shier gave the devotional exercises, reading from the 12th chapter of John. Miss L. Starr gave a report of the provincial convention held at Kingston. Mrs. T. Greenaway, the provincial president of Hamilton, gave the following address at Kingston:
"We serve notice on those engaged in the alcoholic beverage traffic that the W.C.T.U. will engage eternal war on their business which has wrecked more homes and destroyed more lives than all the wars combined. The present situation throughout our nation in regard to the beverage alcohol problem constitutes a major challenge against the church," she said. "If the Christian church was arraigned against alcohol, we could accomplish great things. The church must hold to her duty as she influences society today as in the past. Throughout civilization, drink has been the paramount instrument of human degradation. Regrettably I say Ontario is becoming alcoholized at an alarming rate. More people are drinking today and they are drinking more. The government's liquor policy is the most colossal failure in the history of the Ontario legislation as far as the restriction of sales is concerned. Never was so much taken from so many with such disastrous effect. One third of the people drinking start to drink between the ages of 17 and 21. What shall it profit a nation if they lose a generation? A clergyman in Toronto thought it was a disgrace to have a hospital for alcoholics.
"We are charged with the responsibility of the failure of our fellow man. Jane Adams said, 'No woman's work is done until she makes the world safe for every mother's child.' Hold the line where you stand and be ready for the great following. Gen. Frost said the battle is won the day before. We as Christian workers are largely responsible for the youth of tomorrow. Just step in anywhere for there is fighting all along the line. If we do that, victory will be assured."

GEALE HEWSON WED
In the Church of the Epiphany, Sudbury, June 4, with Rev. Canon C. J. S. Stuart and Rev. F. F. Nock officiating, the marriage took place of Margaret Emily, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Merwin, to Mr. Geale William Hewson, Sudbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hewson, Niagara-on-the-Lake, formerly of Newmarket. Mr. F. Menagh was at the organ.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown of petal white tulle and organdie. The decollete taffeta basque featured short sleeves and mandarin collar studded with tiny lilac blossoms, and the bouffant skirt, worn over a hoop, was made of layer on layer of nylon tulle splashed with a myriad of individual lilac blossoms. A cloche of organdie edged with lilac petals held her finger-tip veil, and she carried a prayer book. Miss Elizabeth Hewson and Miss Mary Jane Merwin, her attendants, chose daffodil yellow organdie gowns styled like that of the bride. The sleeves and mandarin collars were encrusted with lilac blossoms tinted to match the gowns, and the full flared organdie skirts over taffeta were formed by two complete circles. Their bonnet brims were edged with tinted lilac petals, and they carried round loose bouquets of white daisies. Mr. Donne Bosworth was groomsmen, and the ushers were Messrs. Ted Hewson, Jack Gwynne-Timothy, Ben Merwin Jr. and Lloyd Rose.
The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple will live in Sudbury.

Canada's great Leader

LOUIS ST. LAURENT, Prime Minister of Canada

At the polls on June 27 the voter must ask himself, ahead of anything else, who should be head of the government.
In Louis St. Laurent, Canada has found a great national leader.
That he had high abilities of the mind was proved by his career in law. That he had wisdom in cabinet, unique gifts in parliamentary debate and a quick grasp of large affairs became clear as soon as he entered the Government. In international affairs, as one of the original advocates of the Atlantic Pact, he made himself a world figure who spoke out as no Canadian before him, in the councils of the nations.
He also revealed an understanding of ordinary people, because he is one of them.
This warm and essentially simple human being is the real St. Laurent, the product of the small town, of humble beginnings, hard work, a big family and the friendliness of country neighbors.
In blood, language and instinct he combines the qualities of two great races.
To the voter it is equally important that St. Laurent is the leader of a truly national party, with proved strength from coast to coast, the only party which can hope to form a stable government after the election. His character, his ability and his achievements have made him the leader of all the Canadian people.

Parents Dominate Benny

Benny, seven years old, didn't have a chance to think for himself until baby sister Ruthie arrived to occupy some of his parents' time and thought. Before the arrival of Ruthie, Benny was the only child and his life was so controlled by his doting parents that by the time he was school age, he didn't have a thought of his own.

At school, it was hard to determine what was wrong with Benny. He wasn't like the other children and he wasn't popular with them. When he spoke to them, he spoke some superior language they didn't understand or appreciate coming from one of their own age. For instance, Benny, in an attempt to be friendly, would open a conversation: "I'm careful to keep my hands clean; yours are very dirty, you know."

"So what," was the usual answer and Benny was left alone, wondering why.

Parental influence dominated Benny's thoughts. His teacher received anything but childish answers to the questions she addressed to him. For example, the day she asked the class if they would like to go on a picnic the next day, instead of beaming with enthusiasm like the rest of the class, Benny, with a very serious expression, gave her a little dissertation on the subject: "You know, of course, it may rain tomorrow, in which case we would have to change our plans for a picnic. We must plan something to do in case it does rain."

Spoke As Adult
Benny was, seemingly, without natural childish enthusiasm. He expressed himself as an adult—simply repeating those ideas expressed at home. His teacher tried to help him play with the other children, but he just didn't fit in with their ideas of fun.

At last, baby sister Ruthie arrived and Benny was free to do some thinking on his own. It took some time for Benny to shake the shackles of too rigid parental control; but, gradually, he became a free thinker and his conversation became natural and acceptable to the boys and girls of his own age group.

It isn't the responsibility of parents and educators to control the lives of their proteges; but, rather, their duty to help them best live their lives as the individuals they are—help them develop to the extent of their capacities so that they can lead happy and useful lives in service to their communities.

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE E. ION

Vacation time—books—reading—sounds wonderful, doesn't it? And believe it or not, holiday time has actually arrived. Well, perhaps not for you, but it has for us. While you toil at your daily tasks, visualize us reclining in the shade (probably being devoured by black flies) with that inevitable book. Of course your turn will come shortly. You can wave gaily at us as you pass on the way to Lake Simcoe and see us trying to undo the havoc of a two weeks' absence from the garden.

Amid all the hectic preparations, one would think we were going away for at least six months, there has been the happy anticipation that at last we shall be able to relax and enjoy some good books. Christopher Morley told of the pleasures of reading when he wrote, "When you sell a man a book you don't sell him just 12 ounces of paper and ink and glue—you sell him a whole new life. Love and friendship and humor and ships at sea by night—there's all heaven and earth in a book, a real book, I mean."

Reading as a pastime is unique in that it requires no expensive equipment, no partners, no physical endurance, and it offers something to everyone. As to what to read, there are as many answers as there are persons and occasions. Some famous men have chosen the dictionary to read from cover to cover. Of this book Bill Nye has said, "It hasn't much plot, but the author's vocabulary is wonderful."

What part is Canada playing in the field of literature today? It is reported in a recent monthly letter published by the Royal Bank of Canada that 100 works of general literature are being published in our country annually. "Sometimes Canadian books outsell imports in the home market. An example of this is 'The Owl Pen' by Kenneth McNeill Wells. This story of his experiences as a newspaperman who turned small farmer led the sale of non-fiction in Canada for four consecutive months.

"Canada rose to new prominence during the Second World War, and Canadians gained confidence in themselves in all fields, including that of literature. Writers here got very little help from anyone. The Governor-General's Annual Literary Awards bring honor to the winners, but no cash reward. There are no fellowships, nor grants, nor even much encouragement.

"For many years Canadian writers have been climbing a long uphill path to recognition, and in some cases fame. In 1927, when Mazo de la Roche won the $10,000 Atlantic Monthly Prize with her novel Jalna, the achievement was so sensational for a Canadian writer that the city of Toronto gave her a public banquet. In later years, honors were more usual. . . Gwethalyn Graham's 'Earth and High Heaven' is circulating in ten languages other than English. Gabrielle Roy, a native of St. Boniface, Man., was elected a member of the Royal Society of Canada, and her novel 'The Tin Flute', won the Prix Femina Vie Heureuse (Paris) for the year's most distinguished novel by a woman. Bruce Hutchison's 'The Unknown Country' and Hugh MacLennan's 'Two Solitudes' entered best-sellerdom at home and received acclaim abroad.

"It may seem mundane to drag the matter of dollars and cents into the sacred halls of literature, but besides the prestige that Canadian writers win for Canada they also bring in handsome sums of United States dollars. Unlike other exporters, they do not have to send away our physical resources."

THE HOMEMAKERS

Salads: Picture of Coolness

A successful salad presents a picture; crisp, cold and colorful, suggesting the coolness of a dewy morning on the most sultry summer day. Salads usually have as their basis green leaf lettuce. The average garden offers several other greens which add texture and flavor. These are spinach, chard, parsley, nasturtium leaves and the young tops of beets.

Sometimes shredded greens are a more interesting background than the whole leaves. Roll several leaves into a tight roll and slice crosswise in thin slices to make fine, even shreds. Jellyed meat loaf is one way of using the end of Sunday's roast. Cottage cheese is an excellent choice for the more substantial summer salad. On simple salads keep the dressing fresh and tangy rather than rich.

JELLIED MEAT LOAF

1 Tbsp. gelatine
1/4 Cup cold water
1 1/2 Cups meat stock
1 Tbsp. vinegar
1 Tsp. salt
1/2 Tsp. finely chopped onion
2 Tbsp. chopped pimiento (optional)
1/4 Cup chopped sweet pickle
1 Hard-cooked egg
2 Cups chopped, cooked lean meat (beef, veal or pork)
Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes, add to hot stock. Add vinegar, salt, onion, pimiento and pickle. Slice hard-cooked egg and arrange in the bottom of a wet or greased mould, pour in 1/4 cup of jelly mixture. Let stand until set. Add meat to remaining jelly mixture, pour over eggs and set aside until firm. Turn out to serve. Yield: six servings.

ALBANIAN SALAD

1 Lb. fresh young spinach
1 Slice bacon
1 Tbsp. bacon fat
1 Tbsp. malt vinegar
1/2 Tsp. black pepper
1/4 Cup French dressing (approximately)
Wash spinach thoroughly. Use only the spinach leaves; discard stems. Dry spinach well, then crisp in refrigerator at least one-half hour. Meanwhile fry bacon slowly, pouring off fat as it collects. When bacon is partially cooked, cut in small pieces. Continue cooking until crisp. Shred spinach. Add cooked bacon, a tbsp. of the hot bacon fat, vinegar and black pepper. Add French dressing slowly and mix lightly until spinach is well coated. (A quarter of a cup may be too much). Allow to marinate in refrigerator about 20 minutes before serving. Yield: 6 servings.

EGGS IN TOMATO ASPIC

1 1/2 Tbsp. gelatine
1/2 Cup cold water
2 Cups tomato juice
1 Tsp. onion juice
1 Tsp. sugar
1/2 Tsp. salt
3 Hard-cooked eggs
1 Tbsp. salad dressing
Soak gelatine in cold water. Combine tomato juice, onion juice, sugar and salt. Heat to boiling point, add gelatine and stir until dissolved. Half-fill 6 individual moulds with jelly mixture. Remove shells from hard-cooked eggs, cut eggs in half, remove yolks and mash, season and mix with salad dressing. Pack yolk mixtures into whites. When jelly is partially set, place half of devilled egg, with yolk down, in each mould. When jelly is completely set add remaining tomato-gelatin mixture. Allow to set. Unmould on crisp lettuce. Garnish with watercress or asparagus tips. Yield: 6 servings.

PLEASE! HELP CONSERVE WATER

During the past year we have been trying to find new wells to increase our water supply. The need for these wells is due to the increased domestic, commercial and industrial expansion in the Town of Newmarket.

We ask you, the citizens of Newmarket, to co-operate with us to offset the possibility of a summer shortage by refraining from watering lawns and gardens, except on Saturdays and Sundays. Another important conservation can be effected by reporting to us any evidence of leaks in your service such as singing in the pipes or wet spots on lawns or ditches.

At the present time we can supply your ordinary demands, but extra consumption will mean extra pumping and additional strain on the existing wells.

Your co-operation and assistance will be greatly appreciated.

Baptist Mission Circle Marks 25th Anniversary

Pottsville — The 25th anniversary of the Baptist Mission Circle was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Ward Cook last Thursday. There were 55 to 60 members and friends present, some of whom were members at the first meeting 25 years ago. Mrs. Hardy, a former minister's wife, expressed her very great pleasure to be back with so many friends of the past.

Mrs. Jones was the guest speaker from Toronto. She gave a very interesting talk on missions. Mrs. Marsh was another of the many welcomed members. A very delightful supper was served on the lawn. Two beautifully decorated cakes were enjoyed by all.

Curious About Blooms

It will be interesting to see the blossoms on the "Night Blooming Cereus" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Shaw. This plant has blossomed before but the most it has had at one time were four blooms, but this time there will be at least ten. Each blossom measures from four to seven inches across and is soft waxy white with slender, graceful pointed petals. The under petals are faintly tinged with shadowy lavender. The fragrance of one blossom will perfume a considerable area.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Snider, Toledo, Ohio, who are honey-mooning at the summer home of Mr. Snider's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Snider, Toronto, were serenaded on Saturday by a few of their close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George West spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. George Burt-Gerrans.

PLEASANTVILLE

Started haying on Monday, June 6, at Starr Elm Farm. Never had such a crop in 50 years. Average around four acres to load.

There are so many, many lovely gardens in and around town that you don't know where to start to tell about them. You can't begin to tell about all you would like to in one short column, so suppose I just tell of a few outstanding things I have noticed.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. Walls have gone to a tremendous lot of trouble to make gardens on the hill sloping down so steeply from their homes on Prospect St. to the eastern fence of the Office Specialty property. We should hand both couples an orchid for accomplishment. Mrs. Patrick's, especially, is a wonderful garden, but she has had several years' start on Mrs. Walls', so if Mrs. Walls keeps on, her garden presently will reach the Specialty fence too, with a rocky garden like Mrs. Patrick's.

Mr. and Mrs. Walls have their garden under cultivation, but anytime a really bad storm comes along it is liable to land everything in one grand heap at the bottom of the garden. Mrs. Patrick has hers laid out with a stairway running down the steepest part, then horizontal paths across with the garden beds in terraces, built up with high stones and cement with sedum and other rocky plants, especially "hen and chickens" in the crevices.

What I say for Mrs. Patrick's rocky garden I say for Mrs. Walls', as far as she has hers done. They're beautiful, but I hear they were still more beautiful when the tulips were in flower. The white, mauve, yellow and pink rocky flowers, I still can't recall the name of those low-growing flowers, that I told you about in Mrs. Kidd's garden were also there, flowering in gorgeous profusion. I looked across from Mr. Charles McCauley's garden on Main St. and you could see a mass of color, pink and gold and white. With iris, peonies and annuals coming on there will be bloom till snow flies.

This is a wonderful year for pansies. I told about the lovely pansies up at Mrs. Kidd's—and Mrs. Patrick and Mrs. Walls had beauties too, also little Johnny-jump-ups and violas. I have seen other beds of pansies, one on Joseph St., belonging to Mr. Tice; later, his tuberous begonias will be marvellous the same as other years. Mrs. Noble has some lovely pansies too, and Miss Barker and her brother, both along Millard Ave. Mr. Aubrey Davis' bridal wreath will be magnificent today for the garden tea.

I also saw lovely gardens, glimpsed through the open garden gates at Miss Holladay's and Mrs. Jack Stephenson's. And I was given a lovely bouquet of tulips from Mr. Ted Streeter's garden, and earlier on one from Mr. Jack Wright's at the north end. Mr. Wright had iris planted in alternate rows with the tulips. They were full of buds, so he would have a succession of bloom and again for later on a flourishing bed of Madonna lilies. Mr. Streeter's garden, like Mrs. Patrick's, is on the slope of the hill but away to the south end of the town. It is just south of Mr. Denison's and the late Mr. Clement King's and has a wonderful view of the town. Another thing that fastened itself in my memory was a row of handsome lemon lilies all out in full bloom around the bay window to the south of Mrs. Will Rosamond's home on Botsford St. Another was a perfect picture, a double white lilac in Mrs. Charles Willis' garden.

My pen failed when I tried to describe Kidd's garden last week and express even a small portion of my delight. I still can see it in memory, such color can't be described and those tulips were a mazing. On an English calendar, a "Morrie England" one sent to me at Christmas, the picture for May was "Tulips at Spalding, Lincolnshire" and the verse, "Was ever scene so decked with flowers? Rows and rows of tulips were all in full bloom with a village church and houses for background, and as I looked at it I thought it was the nearest thing I'd seen to compare with the beauties in Mrs. Kidd's garden, thousands of tulips of every color. I haven't seen half the things I wanted to see in all the lovely gardens in

Major Details of

The Progressive Conservative Party's Declaration of Policy—Drafted and Approved by Canadians from every Province—Representing Every walk of Life

George Drew

It expressed the unanimous opinion of delegates from every province who met in Ottawa from September 30th to October 2nd last year.

Details are embraced by the three words which interpret the purpose of the undertaking we give to Canadians: Opportunity, Security, Freedom. Those words constitute no meaningless, time-worn slogan. They represent the broad purpose of a dynamic and progressive plan of action which we have placed before you as a convincing reason why you should support the Progressive Conservative candidate in your own constituency, no matter what party you have supported in the past.

OPPORTUNITY

First let me refer to the word "opportunity." The Progressive Conservative Party will assure opportunity to all our people by:

A bold and progressive national development programme

Canada is on the threshold of her greatest period of development. If a vigorous government, with faith in the future is given the opportunity to bring into production the immense resources which we possess in every part of Canada. While the vast areas of the North challenge our vision and our courage, there is no part of Canada where there are not new opportunities of development if we provide the electric energy and other sources of power which will encourage new industries and new types of agricultural production which can make every part of Canada more productive in the years ahead.

Our national development programme will cover the development of power, oil, coal, mineral resources and the transportation facilities necessary for their full use. In particular we will establish (a) a National Development Advisory Council in co-operation with the provinces; (b) establish a National Power Authority to co-operate with the provinces in the technical examination of feasible power development and in the actual development of electric power at cost; (c) undertake the commencement of a joint conservation, irrigation and power project on the Saskatchewan River; (d) encourage the development of power in the Maritime Provinces from coal as well as by other means; (e) promote the development of the great iron ore resources of our country and the establishment of greatly expanded steel industry within Canada; (f) stimulate the development of petroleum and other mineral resources in co-operation with the provinces which will encourage the investment of risk capital; (g) institute a vigorous programme of water conservation, reforestation, flood control, irrigation and drainage schemes throughout the whole of Canada for the reclamation of unproductive land and the preservation of our soil, and along with other similar activities in co-operation with the provincial governments; (h) establish a positive programme of marshland reclamation and development; (i) take effective steps at the earliest possible date to co-operate with the provincial governments in building the Trans-Canada Highway and feeder roads, which will not only greatly increase our transportation facilities, but also help to open out the vast possibilities of the tourist business in every part of Canada; (j) remove the discrimination in freight rates between the several geographical areas of Canada so that all sections of our country may receive the full benefit from the development of our great resources; (k) deal effectively with the special transportation problem of Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, Cape Breton and Vancouver Island; (l) take the necessary steps to proceed with the development of the power and waterways project on the St. Lawrence River.

Expansion of trade

The ultimate value of all our development depends upon the distribution and sale of what we produce. Because of our tremendous producing capacity we are one of the world's great exporters. The external market for our surplus products contribute very largely to the pay envelopes which buy the food, clothing and other necessities in every Canadian home. Look around you in your own home now. The things you have depend upon that overseas trade, no matter what your occupation may be. Overseas markets have been lost, and our trade is dangerously threatened by the government's foolish trade and monetary policy. As our trade with Britain and other overseas markets are lost, Canadians are being reassured by the volume of our exports to the United States. We believe in increasing our exports to the United States to the highest possible level. We believe that all Canada's exports can be, and should be, tremendously increased. We know, however, that disastrous results would follow any attempt to depend exclusively upon exports to one nation may be. The loss of our trade in wheat, lumber, fish, apples, dairy products and the other things that we have been shipping overseas means more than a mere question of dollars and cents. It means a loss of business on the railways, in the seaports, and on the ships which have been carrying this trade to the world. It would dislocate our whole internal trading organization and force serious readjustments of employment with our railways and other transportation services. The Progressive Conservative Party pledges itself to adopt every practical means to expand our internal trade with the United States and with all other nations where we can sell what we produce. By reciprocal trade agreements we will promote and expand our trade overseas and also with the United States. Particularly we will (a) remove all abnormal trade barriers imposed by way of license, quota, or embargo; (b) remove the arbitrary provisions of the Foreign Exchange Control Act; (c) re-value the Canadian dollar within the limits permitted by the Bretton Woods agreement and seek such modification of those agreements as are necessary to permit our dollar to assist our external trade in the normal way; (d) open negotiations immediately for the purpose of making the dollar and pound convertible, so that we may open and expand our lost overseas markets in the sterling area.

Reduction of Taxes

The greatest encouragement to work, production and trade is the opportunity to receive a fair return from which money can be saved for our families, our homes and our vision for the future. Even with high earnings today, our present tax system is making it difficult to save and is greatly increasing the cost of everything we buy. Reduction of taxes and sweeping reforms in our system of taxation are necessary to encourage initiative and reward hard work. With that in mind, the Progressive Conservative Party has undertaken to: (a) increase the personal income tax exemption to at least $2,500 for a married person, and to at least $1,250 for single persons; (b) increase the exemption for dependent children by $200; (c) lower the general rate of personal income tax; (d) allow deductions to farmers for work done by members of the family who share the work of the farm; (e) and the persecution of our people by tax-collectors acting under arbitrary power; (f) encourage development and improvement of small businesses operated by the owner by allowing proper exemption for money which is put into the improvement of the business and not paid out in profits; (g) provide for a graduated reduction in taxes on other small businesses upon the portion of the income left in the business for further development and consequently for the increase of employment; (h) abolish nuisance taxes and make substantial reductions in general sales and excise taxes on necessities.

SECURITY

The Progressive Conservative Party assures security to all Canadians by the following Declaration of Policy.

Security of Employment

We believe that the greatest assurance of employment in Canada is based upon the fullest development of our resources which will create new employment across the whole country and increase the domestic markets for all that we produce. In addition to the discovery and employment of new resources, the remarkable scientific developments of the past few years have greatly widened the use we can make of all the resources we possess. In co-operation with the various provincial governments we will explore every possibility of expanding the opportunities for work by encouraging new types of production.

Contributory Social Security Programme

The Progressive Conservative Party has proposed a contributory social security programme providing the following benefits amongst others:

1. Believing that provision for our senior citizens at a level of payment which will give them a feeling of independence in their retiring years is essential, we have stated that we do not believe that old-age pensions should be regarded as a right, but should be a right and that no chance should be made on such property as has been saved during their working years, nor should there be any enquiry as to whether some money is being earned by the person receiving the pension. We believe that the laws of the country should not discourage saving during the working years and such work as our people wish to do in their old age. For that reason we provide for old-age pensions at 65 without a Means Test.

2. Unemployment Insurance benefits will be extended to include payments for time lost due to accident or illness.

3. Adequate medical and hospital care will be provided for our people under a national health programme which will also include the most extensive preventive health services.

4. The same family allowance will be paid for every child, no matter how many children are in the family, and the nutritional and other services for our children will be greatly improved.

These, and other provisions included in our programme, will be worked out in co-operation with the provinces, so that the highly-skilled and experienced public welfare services of the provincial governments will be available.

An Effective Programme for the Construction of Homes

1. Loans and priorities will be made available to the whole country to build their own homes. 2. Low-cost housing can, and will be provided under plans approved by the dominion, provincial and municipal governments which will be administered by the municipalities. 3. The cost of building homes can be reduced by encouraging new types of construction. What is causing so much concern to our people at present is not only the shortage of housing accommodation, but also the excessive cost of small homes, particularly those required by our young people starting out in life. In this respect I might point out that while I was Premier of Ontario we introduced a Housing Act which provided for the construction of homes in which the official publication of the Canadian Legion had the following to say and I quote from their editorial: "Veterans' everywhere will acclaim the new housing legislation recently enacted in the province of Ontario. In this new government is blazing new trails, out of which might materialize the long-awaited, overall plan for the successful solution of the housing problem in every part of the dominion, which the Legion has been pressing for so hard ever since the war ended. The effect and impetus of this Act was necessarily limited by the overruling authority of the dominion government, which restricted supplies for building homes by their restrictive regulations. We will remove these restrictions and the principles of that Act to which I have referred can be made effective in the wider field by constitutional agreement between the dominion, provincial and municipal authorities who must all play their part in solving this very urgent problem.

Security for our Farmers

Our programme sets out a very complete statement of policy in regard to stability of income for our farmers. I will refer to some of the more important provisions: 1. We undertake to enact floor-price legislation based on the following principles: (a) A definite formula in the Farm Prices Support Act for arriving at floor prices. (b) This formula will allow for variation in production and demand for individual products. (c) Floor prices will be announced well in advance of the production period. (d) The floor price will be arrived at in consultation with representative producers. We favour the restoration of the Canadian Wheat Board Act of 1935 to serve as a marketing agency for wheat producers. We are in favour of raising prices as well as wheat being handled on a voluntary basis by the Wheat Board. We assure that producers themselves will decide the method by which their wheat will be handled and sold. This statement of policy, and it is an emphatic statement of policy, is based upon our belief that market forces, representative of producer organizations, should determine their own method of marketing. The Wheat Board and all similar producers' boards, will be made up of producers themselves and not be mere agencies of some department of government.

5. We will increase the facilities for agricultural research to explore new uses of agricultural products for industrial purposes, and in co-operation with provincial Departments of Agriculture conduct thorough studies of contagious animal and plant diseases to reduce the heavy annual loss from this cause.

6. In determining agricultural policy, we will enlist the co-operation of farmers' organizations throughout Canada and those provinces in particular of production, so that all administrative as well as advisory boards will have representation of those with expert knowledge of the subject upon which they will be asked to deal. These and the other provisions in our agricultural programme are all based upon the belief that the best interests of agriculture throughout Canada can be best served under the guidance of those with practical knowledge of each agricultural activity.

Security for Labour

(a) Our national development programme, our proposed tax reform and our plans for the expansion of trade offer the assurance of expanding employment in the years ahead. Good working conditions and satisfactory terms of employment can be assured best by effective laws governing labour relations. In the field of national jurisdiction, the Progressive Conservative Party puts forward a policy based upon the belief that good working conditions for our people and friendly relations between workers and management are essential in the best interests of our workers, but also in the best interests of every Canadian. We believe that the position of labour must be constantly improved and that the security and happiness of all our workers must be proceeded by legislation which will provide for objective collective bargaining, determination of the mutual rights of workers and management, as well as the conciliation and settlement of difficulties which may arise. With this object in view, we will establish a National Labour Council which will have equal numbers of representatives of labour and management. This council will examine and consider the causes of labour disputes and propose satisfactory solutions for such problems. It will also conduct research into the ways in which labour relations can constantly be improved.

(b) We will provide for greater representation of labour on government boards, commissions, and agencies.

(c) We will encourage profit-sharing plans for the sharing of profits of workers by such adjustment in taxation and otherwise as will encourage plans of this kind.

(d) We will constantly improve the legislation providing for compulsory collective bargaining, certification of labour organizations after a majority vote, machinery for conciliation of disputes, fair and adequate wages, standard hours of work having regard to the nature of the industry concerned, and holidays with pay.

We have also an excellent programme for Security for Veterans

We believe that the government of Canada has no greater responsibility than to make adequate provision for the young men and women who served Canada in two world wars. Our Party has at all times insisted that the promises made during the war to those in service should be carried out in the spirit as well as the letter of the assurance which were given. Our programme therefore gives the following undertakings to our veterans:

(a) To establish a standing committee of the House of Commons on Veterans' Affairs which will regularly review all veterans' problems;

(b) to retain and constantly improve all existing veteran legislation;

(c) to eliminate all unnecessary delays in dealing with veterans and to simplify procedure;

(d) to extend pension benefits to the members of the merchant navy;

(e) to accept as the basis for all decisions the medical category recorded on enlistment and to regard physical condition below that standard during service as the actual result of military service;

(f) to stabilize the pensions of veterans of the First World War, providing for upward revision where the disability has increased;

(g) to increase and extend the provision of war veterans' allowances which increase in the amount that a veteran may earn over and above the allowance paid.

FREEDOM

Our constitutional freedom is based upon the democratic principle that the people's chosen representatives in Parliament are supreme, and have the final responsibility for all laws which affect the rights of our people. This principle is the cornerstone of all our freedom. The Progressive Conservative Party pledges itself to put and end to statism in Canada and terminate bureaucratic action by government order-in-council, ministerial proclamation, and departmental regulation. We will restore responsible government answerable to elected representatives of the people. We believe in the widest possible measure of personal liberty consistent with law, order and the general national welfare. We are opposed to all powers which invest in the government arbitrary control over the rights of the individual. We pledge ourselves to restore the full supremacy of the law and the equality of every citizen under the law. We believe that the closer government is to the people, the better government always is. We are determined to conceive the authority of the provincial and municipal governments over those local affairs which can best be dealt with by men and women who are in intimate contact with them. We are strongly opposed to centralization of legislative and administrative power over local affairs, and to any breach of the constitutional authority of any of the provinces under the British North America Act which made us one nation. On assuming office we will arrange for a dominion-provincial conference to consider all aspects of dominion-provincial relations and establish an effective basis for close and continuing co-operation between all the governments of Canada. We believe that national unity depends upon respect for our federal constitution and the clear definition of the responsibility of the dominion and provincial governments, with assurance of adequate financial resources to carry out those responsibilities and with adequate financial resources to the municipalities to carry out their many very important responsibilities. In preserving our freedom it is essential that freedom of speech be fully protected. For that reason, it must be a matter of concern to all Canadians that the government-owned radio system which plays such an important role in the exchange of ideas should have become a propaganda agency of the government. May I emphasize that in my belief the staff and technical experts of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation are trying to do a good job under utterly impossible conditions. As you know, any attempt on the part of the employees of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to improve the organization only results in immediate disciplinary action. The summary dismissal, for instance, of Mr. Joel Aldred, one of the best known broadcasters of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation just the day before Parliament dissolved, because he had publicly suggested improvements within that organization, is merely an indication of the extent to which free speech is being restrained by the present government. We undertake to restore freedom of speech over the radio as well as otherwise, and to place the supervision of all broadcasting in Canada under an independent administrative body. We further undertake to abolish the license fee on radio receiving sets. We do this because this license fee, which is supposed to be for the services given by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, is unjustified because there are many parts of Canada where our people receive no services from the publicly-owned stations. All our freedom and all our security depend upon our national security and independence. For that reason, one of the first resolutions adopted unanimously by our delegates from every province last October, was an expression of unqualified support for the establishment of a defensive union of the Western Powers, which has since taken form in the North Atlantic Security Pact. Our support of that policy has at all times been stated in the same words and with the same emphasis in every part of Canada. The collective preservation of peace and the combined strength of the free nations now gives increased importance to national defence and the efficiency of our defence forces. We undertake to set up a standing committee on national defence which will keep Parliament and the people informed regarding the state of our defences and will also assure the most effective use of the money we spend for the purpose of providing defence forces.

The points I have covered in these remarks are only some of the progressive, practical and constructive policies which will be put into effect by a Progressive Conservative government. I believe this statement will provide convincing reasons why you should cast your ballot on June 27th for the Progressive Conservative candidate in your own constituency so that the public business of this great country will be handled by a strong, vigorous and progressive government in the years ahead.

DAY AND NIGHT, seven days a week the telephone is at your service. Quickly and easily it keeps you in touch with everything and everybody everywhere. There are 400,000 more telephones and two million more calls a day than there were three years ago. And service is getting better all the time.

In three years, however, costs of important raw materials for telephone lines and cables have risen sharply. Copper prices have doubled, zinc and lead prices tripled. Yet, up to now, despite rising costs on all sides, there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 22 years ago. Few things give you so much real value at such low cost as your telephone.

We've broken all records but there are still orders we haven't been able to fill. We will keep right on working and building to make your telephone service a bigger bargain than ever—to continue to provide more and better service at the lowest possible cost.

Mrs. Angus King Mourned By All Who Knew Her

Keswick—The community was shocked at the sudden death early Sunday morning of Mrs. Angus King, formerly Mary Morton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ira Morton, Keswick.

She had lived in Keswick until her marriage when they moved to the King farm near Belhaven and later built a new home at Keswick where she passed away.

She was a member of the former Methodist church here, a devoted mother and wife and a kind, thoughtful friend. She will be sadly missed.

Mrs. Morton leaves her husband, three sons, Harvie, in Toronto, Norman at Belhaven, Elmer, Keswick, and one daughter, Gladys (Mrs. G. Smalley), Mount Albert. Attending the funeral were her brothers, Mr. John Morton, Toronto, Rev. R. E. Morton, at present at Peterboro, Ernest and William, Newmarket, and Norman, Thornhill. The service led by Rev. Nickol, Sutton, was at the Strasser Funeral Parlors, Queensville, and was attended by a large crowd. The profusion of flowers testified to the high esteem in which the family is held. Interment was in Queensville where Mr. King's mother was laid to rest just a couple of weeks previous. The family has our sympathy. The King sisters gave a lovely and comforting duet at the service.

Mrs. Ted Bothwell, Toronto, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hamilton, Orchard Beach. Mr. Bothwell has gone to Port Arthur for a summer position after passing his third year in forestry.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pollock and Mr. and Mrs. Merville Connell attended the wedding of Mr. James Pedlar, formerly of Keswick, in Toronto Friday night.

News n' Views

By GEORGE HASKETT

Over the week: Early season softball results are drifting in. Vets and Aurora are taking everything in stride—three wins apiece. Aurora salted away Woodbridge, Lansing and Schomberg, the North York league's new members. The Vets ride the crest of a similar record and over the same teams. The two front runners, as they stand now, aren't destined to lock horns until June 25. By that time, who knows? Someone may have found the key to crack their win streak. The Auroras are the surprise package with their early season surge. On the other foot, Fred Morris' Langstaffers with a win and tie in three—Lansing dumped them 7-6 Thursday—are finding the spring rows tough sledding. Don't let it fool you, though. The Staffers are going to rally and when they do, won't be far off the pace.

The sun is shining. There's joy in Mudville. Intermediate baseballers are rolling. They thumped Stouffville 9-4 in their opener. Veteran "Shorty" Turan had to stage a comeback to complete the side as only eight players were available. Big test this week. A pair of home and home tilts with the Allen-Simmons Aurora nine. The rivalry is there. The fur may fly. Three of last year's midgets, Don Gibson, Alvie McKnight and Jerry Hugo are with Aurora. And what might this be? Our lacrosse club wins! Say, that must be the first win for re-organization last year. The Redmen, that's their ticket by the way, eased out a 7-6 win over "Mutt" Collings and company. It's the kind of news that will bear repeating.

Haskett's Hash: Mostly about folks. Ed Tupling is manager "Cecars" McDonald's assistant with the Vets. The two Bradford boys with the team, "Bus" Carter and Ken Tupling, also have work with Bradford in the softball line. The Vets took away top honors at Mount Albert Sports Day—their fourth in four. They clipped Aurora 11-6 in the finals. Toughest opposition was Long Branch. The Vets trail to Orillia tomorrow evening for an exhibition tilt with the Orillians under the lights.

The Vets found a welcoming hand at Woodbridge Friday. Charlie Rowatree, the squire of that metropolis and proprietor of Elm Park and Pavilion, Woodbridge's home field, was saying hello to his old time hockey players, "Joint" McComb, Joe Tunney and Freddie Dillman. Frank Courtney, "Peaches" VanZant and Orval Hisey have the ladies in a tie with Midland for first place—two wins and a loss. "Jackie" Moore, Grace Curtis, Edna Sleight, Mae Primrose, Arlene Moore and Lila Rose are the rookies with the team. The top men didn't have to go into any huddle to find the reason for their one and only loss. They could put the blame on Flo Campbell, Valley's catcher. A big evening indeed, three homers and a single to bat in nine runs. Top that if you can.

Watch out girls: Those red flashes you see sported around aren't flying saucers. No indeed. They're the Spitfires in new cardigans. Quite the thing you know. Manager John Hines did the honors as the club gathered together Saturday p.m. for a social evening at Lake Simcoe. By the way, "The Busman" has a little more time for sports now. He's disposed of his sporting goods store. The new prop. is Ray Smith. Schomberg Lions, headed by Vic Marchant and Glad Lloyd, have the green light on floodlights. They hope to see them on by July 1.

Saw some interesting plans of proposed lay-out for the arena. Look mighty good. Won't be a rink between Maple Leaf Gardens and Collingwood that is any better. A lot of preliminary work to be considered. Let's get on with it!

Stop, Look and Listen: The calendar says Midland ladies here tonight. League leadership on the line. June 14, Vets at home to Woodbridge. June 15, Aurora back for a scrap with the intermediate ball club. In the Lake Simcoe league, June 13, Keswick at Hope the main dish.

From the sick bay comes word that Bob Peters is doing fine. Bob underwent an operation Sunday. Aside to the nurses—better put a guard on his room should the fire whistle blow. Barney Revill is a busy man now with extra duties in the Lake Simcoe League umpiring department.

Bantams Split Games Trim Stouffville Here

Frank Hollingsworth led our bantam baseball brigade into a pair of contests this past week. Friday at Richmond Hill they were turned back in a tight pitchers' duel 4-3. It was a tough one to let get away as the teams traded the lead almost every inning. Dame Fortune finally casting in her lot with the Hillers. Wayne Robinson handled the pitching until the fourth when his control gave out. He walked four in a row to gift the Hill with a run and a temporary lead. This brought Karl Ball on the scene to finish up the job.

On their own diamond Monday evening it was an entirely different story. Hollingsworth's laddies had on their hitting shoes. They lashed out for ten runs against two Stouffville tossers. Karl Ball, after a shaky start in which Stouffville hopped into a four-run lead, sent them down over most of the route in one two three order. Wayne Robinson tripled and Bill Mair came up with a pair of safeties to lead the assault. Line-up: Grant Morton, c. Karl Ball, p. Bob Broadbent, 1b, Neil Tate, 2b, Bill Mair, ss, Bob Atwell, 3b, Bob Forhan, Fred Bennett and Wayne Robinson, outfield.

Plenty Of Action For Simcoe Loop

Three weeks on record in the Lake Simcoe merry-go-round: four teams unbeaten. Pine Orchard, Keswick, Zephyr and Mount Albert; Brownhill and Queensville still in search of first conquest.

Vandorf made the largest gain over the week with two wins. At home Friday, they knocked Queensville into the next county with a 23-1 pasting. Bob English and Geo. Evans were treated alike to a shower of base hits. Lloyd Preston and Harold Botham shared the winners' mound. Making it two in a row, Vandorf put away Sharon 16-7 on Tuesday. They picked on Ivan Eves for runs in every frame. Sharon bunched most of their runs into the fourth. Harold Botham took the bows for a well pitched game.

Hope recorded their first win, a 6-3 conquest of Brownhill. It was a scoreless draw for five as "Lefty" Don Glover, making his first start, and Duff Solore matched pitches. Hope rallied for four and held on. Doug Eves returned to the Hope lineup.

Monday brought together those two old rivals, Hope and Mount Albert. The Robert's men drew first blood with a 11-8 triumph. Hope gained a three-run jump in the first but the Mounties finished strongly. Ken Mitchell went the route in the winners' cause. Don Glover pitched five for Hope, retiring in favor of Cliff Ward. Hope's Bruce Townsley and Charlie Green of the Mounties socked out homers.

Coming from behind a 5-1 deficit in the late frames, Pine Orchard kept their winning gait rolling with a 10-7 win over Willow Beach. Bill Walker for the Orchard and Cec. McNeill for the Beachers were the opposing pitchers. Willow Beach sported their new uniforms for the first time, so there's probably some excuse for their loss. In the north, Keswick "dood it" again. They smacked down Sharon 13-4 for a second win. Ken Hodgins came up with his first homer of the season. To quote Ivan Eves, Sharon's pitcher, "it must have travelled seven miles." When that boy hits 'em they stay hit. Harold Smith, the winner; Ivan Eves, the loser. Zephyr is setting a merry clip—up with a third win this week. Ron Kester pitched five-hit ball to limit Brownhill to a single run. Zephyr put across eight. Clark Arnold's triple was the big blow. Brownhill tried out their new diamond.

Aside to team managers. Those results aren't being phoned along to publicity director Claude Pollock. How about it now. Phone Queensville 2931. We heard it somewhere the fans in some sections are treating visiting pitchers a mite roughly. Now men, live and let live. You'll be glad to hear Bob Peters, at present in York County hospital, is coming along fine. Mainline Barney Revill is having a busy time of it. Hope and Sharon will put on an exhibition game Saturday evening at the Temple for the York Pioneers gathering. Future games: June 9, Brownhill at Mount Albert; June 10, Keswick at Willow Beach; June 10, Hope at Vandorf; June 13, Keswick at Hope; June 14, Mount Albert at Zephyr; June 14, Willow Beach at Sharon; June 15, Queensville at Brownhill.

pay him to send him to Ottawa again."

Mr. Smith said that he has found many new Liberals in this campaign who were formerly of other parties. "The great need in Canada is a strong and experienced government and there is no place for blind partisanship," he said.

Pretty Good Job
Mr. Smith who has been associated with politics for nearly 25 years said that the government has not done everything that he would like to have seen done, "but I think we must admit that the government has done a pretty good job."

"Faroers have been prosperous as under every Liberal government. There has been prosperity in general and there has been the crowning effort of the Abbot budget. The Prime Minister is a man every Canadian can be proud of. Mr. King has a worthy successor. He is an able scholar, statesman and a gentleman. He will represent Canada well in every council in the world."

"Our campaign has been favorable but there is still too much apathy and indifference in these days. It is the duty of citizenship to take an active interest in politics," said Mr. Smith.

Chairman of the meeting was Colin Campbell, president of the York North Liberal Association. Other speakers were Ernest Bogart, R.C. Mrs. H. L. Matthews, president of the North York Women's Liberal Association and Mrs. Lorne C. Lee, immediate past president of the Ontario Women's Liberal Association.

NEED MORE PLAYERS

The Junior Ladies' softball league now functioning in town is anxious to secure a few more players. Kindly phone Reg. Ball, 29M, if interested.

Boxla Opens With Win 7-6 Over Bradford

Coming from behind a four-goal deficit in the first half, Newmarket "Redmen", our lacrosse squad, racked up a 7-6 win in their first game of the season at Bradford Saturday evening. It was an exhibition scrap with the "Celery Kings" which gave the fans plenty of action.

Tom Cooney led the Newmarket attack with three goals, Harvey Massinger, Ken Hirtz, Art Woods and Tom Burnie shot in singles with assists going to Bob Benville, Scotty Johnston, Perry Standeven and Harry Legge. For the Celery chucks, Harold Gwyn sniped for three, Roy "Mutt" Collings two and Doug James one. Coach Matt Walsh guarded the rigging for the Redmen.

Latest advice is that Newmarket are grouped with three Toronto teams, Brooklyn, Bradford, Port Hope, Midland and Huntsville.

Intermediates Win Two Opening Games

Two games—two wins. That's the record of our intermediate ball club making a revival run this year. At Stouffville last Thursday, led by that veteran of the baseball wars, Carl "Shorty" Turan, the Redmen reeled off a 9-4 triumph. Ortie Thoms served up a brand of pitching that kept the Stouffville hitting power well under control. It was testing time Monday evening for the locals. They were in Aurora

Aurora Defeats Woodbridge 3-2

An eighth inning rally and a mis-play by second sacker Dud Kearney gave Charlie Ryan's Aurora softballers a 3-2 verdict over Gordy Bagg's Woodbridge nine on Tuesday night at Aurora. It was the fourth straight win for Aurora. Previously the Ryan-Holman crew had taken a 22-7 win over Woodbridge, shut-out North York Lions 17-0 and out-slugged Schomberg 16-14. Tonight they invade Langstaff to tangle with Bill Bowen and his mates.

Aurora presents a changed softball club from other years, with Charlie Ryan, ex-Richmond Hill impresario, at the helm assisted by "Snook" Holman. Back from last year as pitcher Andy O'Neil, outfielder-infielder Loring "Gabby" Doolittle, first sacker Earl Macdonald, George Hodgins is due to make his appearance soon. Back at the plate rookie Jim Macdonald from King is doing a great chore, with Art Crean in reserve as well as

Miami Bowlers Close Season's Play

The Miami Green Bowlers have closed up shop for the season. Champions have been declared in all but one series. In the singles semi-finals, Bert Budd defeated Tom Doyle 21-14, while Tommy Scott triumphed over Dr. Boyd by a similar margin. Bert Budd went on to annex the trophy and championship by defeating Tommy Scott in a keenly contested game 21-19. In the Miami "Colt" singles Art West won a 21-15 victory over "Rexall" Best while Frank Prest drew a bye. In the finals Art West captured top honors with a 21-17 win over Frank Prest. Bert Budd and Art West each carry off a trophy donated by president Jim Law and vice-president Andy Murdison.

In the doubles, Del. Gibeay and Vaughan Goring took down the championship with a 23-15 victory over J. O. Little and Bill Peters. In the "Colt" doubles, the one series in which a champion has not been declared, Wally Adams and Roy Penrose, top team in Group I, are awaiting a winner to be declared in Group 2.

The matter of declaring a top trophies team was settled last week. The team skipped by Ray Jelley, vice-skip John Macnab and lead Roy Penrose rolled up to a 22-14 win over Bob Pritchard and skip, Del. Gibeay, vice skip, and Ernie Wright, lead. It was

Pine Orchard Hands Bell Team 17-9 Loss

Pine Orchard harvested 17 runs off two Newmarket Bell Telephone hunkers, Stan, Evans and Jack Teasdale, in an exhibition softball game at the Pine Orchard diamond last week. The best the Bell crew could ring in with was nine. Ted Tidman and Bill Walker split the mound duties in the winning cause. Jack Teasdale with a homer with two mates aboard and Art More were the heavy sluggers for the Bell.

Vets Make It 4 Straight Chll Lansing 20-10

Despite the frosty atmosphere the Vets had a hot reception waiting for "Bumping Thursday." They kept things sizzling with a display of base hits that swamped the visitors 20-10. In all, Lansing used four pitchers. They all looked the same to the Vets hitters and were treated accordingly. All that, the visiting mound corps didn't help their own cause with a flock of walks. "Joint" McComb, on duty for the Vets, didn't have to work too hard to hang up a win.

Leading the Newmarket assault were Joe Tunney and Long John Hisey with base circling clouds and Normie Legge and "Joint" McComb with trip-les. Dick Hamon and Clarkson Arnold made their first appearance with the Vets. The former, in the outfield, came up with a duo of bingles and Clark Arnold, although not finding the range with his hits, did a fine back-stopping job. Harv Gibeay romped around short to come up with several nice s.l.p.s. A pair of Johns, Naylor and Salvio, were the visitors' best bets.

for a clam-bake with Bill Allen's men. With "Lefty" Jack Andrews on the mound tossing a no-hit, no-run game, the Redmen made it two straight with 5-0.

Jerry Simmons on the Aurora hill-top carved out a three-hit effort but his fielding support didn't match at times. Bill Haskett's line single in the fourth sent two mates scampering across the dish to break the deadlock.

Newmarket: Clement c. Andrews p. Stunden 1b, Gunn 2b, Rutledge ss, Pohnatzer 3b, McHale v. Haskett, Winger, Couch and Taylor outfield. Aurora: Winters c. J. Simmons p. D. Gibson 1b, R. Simmons 2b, J. Hugo ss, Stevenson 3b, Barrager, Close and Timbers outfield.

Huck Young. Both of the latter need no introduction. Crean will also play the outfield. Hockeyists Ronnie Simons, Bill Mundell and Bill Wilkinson have all seen action and done well. All have had baseball experience, but have a few tricks to learn about in baseball. The veteran Teddy Bennett and elongated Bill Cost-off are aiding O'Neil in the hill-top work and Bennett is as tricky as ever. Mickey Sutton and Herbie Rose, Richmond Hill, are in the outfield and add punch at the plate. Jim Crean, smooth working centre fielder from the Hill, Bill "Bucky" Buchanan and Wilf White are others Ryan hopes to present to the fans shortly. New sweaters are expected soon. Off to a good start and playing hustling ball the team has surprised the fans and they ride atop the circuit along with "Cecars" favored Vets. It looks like a big summer for the circuit, as the underdogs at present are quite capable of rising in wrath and smiting down the leaders.

Ray Jelley's third triumph in this section in the past three years.

Presidents sometimes slip and vice-presidents come up but you couldn't prove it by Tuesday evening's bowling at Miami. President Jim Law proved he's top man, skipping a trebles rink of Chas. Willis and Vaughan Goring to a win over vice-president Andy Murdison's rink of Andy, skip, and Kester Hugo and Geo. Hudson. It was a hot friendly session, Jim getting the clincher with his last bowl, three ends going into the discard.

Len Simmons Bids Aurora Adieu

Blue Monday was truly that day when Len Simmons, who has been with the Aurora softball club for the past 15 years, has given dynamic, constructive leadership to Aurora and district sports, has decided to shake the dust of Aurora from his breeches and had fixed his eyes on Campbellford, Ontario, as presenting new horizons for the Simmons initiative and ability. A native of Acton, who came to Aurora 23 years ago, Len has been with the T. Simon & Sons Company all that time and at present holds the post of assistant superintendent. At Campbellford he will become a partner in the shoe industry with Ed Johnston, another former "Simmons" employee. The opportunity presented itself suddenly to Len when he made a fast decision to embark on an enterprise that may well lead to the top of the ladder.

The family will remain here for some months to come which fortunately means that we'll be seeing Simmons quite frequently, and that these two, starting young athletes, Ron and Gerry Simmons, will be on hand for Aurora sports. Never a great athlete himself, Mr. Simmons in the 30's took over a wobbling Aurora softball club and made them into a fighting squad in the York-Simcoe circuit. He also gave a hand with girls' softball. Later he turned to his first love, baseball, and organized a minor ball club and minor hockey teams. Subsequently, these outfits were taken under the wing of Aurora Lions club and since the inception of the Aurora Leos, he has been in charge of the sports program.

From bantam to junior ball, Aurora has won a place on the baseball map and the Aurora experiment has resulted in a revival of baseball throughout North York. In hockey, Aurora mid-gets won provincial honors in 1945-46, and in the past three seasons in junior ranks the Aurora kids have ranked with the best, going to the O.H.A. semi-finals in 1948, and this year giving the ultimate champions, Weston, their closest battles. Simmons has been everything, water boy to coach, but mostly manager. No one but Simmons knows how deeply he has plunged into his own pocket or the hours, days and weeks given to the teen agers. When a man does nothing, the public simply accepts him without comment, the guy who attempts to get things done can always expect to feel the brunt of hole-in-the-wall gossip, and two-bit critics, and over the years, Simmons has come in for his share of sniping mostly from those who have contributed little to sport, or with some special axe to grind.

Fortunately, for all concerned including himself, Leonard is generally able to bear it and grin, but he can if necessary hand it out as well. Time, of course, has generally ironed out any differences and proved him right. The O.H.A. and O.M.I.A. have both used him extensively as a convenor and trouble-shooter and recently he has been chairman of the Aurora Recreation Commission of which he has been a staunch supporter from the start. Park improvements and the artificial ice campaign have both had his full support. He was one of the first advocates of the latter, and it seems too bad that he won't have a hand in planning and directing the new Aurora ice plant.

Simmons has always battled on the diamond, from the penalty box, and in the committee room for his teams and invariably they have been clubs who battled to the last ditch, but never with questionable tactics, although they took full advantage of the rules wherever possible. The battles with Stouffville-Victoria Square in hockey and with Stouffville, Milton, Simcoe, etc., in baseball will always be remembered by Aurora fans.

It has been no mean feat to keep the ship of sport afloat in Aurora, to keep the players happy, to keep a chain of expenditures that looked like a bottomless hole. The British House has all sorts of records for the number of times it has been broken, and he has never broken a confidence, releasing information, press releases, or inside dope. Many a good story of the moment has been laid aside in the interest of the overall picture, because of Len's use of all known sim- means had its heart and soul in chym!
